WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

Rutland Baby Rescued from Beneath Locomotive.

Rutland, July 18.—One of the most miraculous escape from death ever witnessed by Engineer Thomas Kerslake of Church street and Conductor James Collins of Elm street, and one that they describe as the record breaker in all their railroad experience, was that of Baby Helen Rieti, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bioti, who was pulled out from between the driving wheels of an engine after she had been knocked down and passed over by the pilot and was within five feet of being crushed to death by the fire-box, Monday afternoon at the Temple crossing.

The baby, over which the engine passed without inflicting only the most insignificant scratch on her chin, approached the crossing about 50 rods west of the Temple crossing Monday afternoon as the Delaware & Hudson passenger train for Whitehall and Saratoga, leaving Rutland at 12:45 p. m., bore down upon the child. She could just walk, but when she reached the track she was obliged to get down on her knees to make the rails. She had crossed over three rails of the double track, and was standing directly in front of the oncoming train, looking at it wonderingly, when the pilot struck her, so gently that it just pushed her over, the engine coming to a stop after the pilot and pony truck had passed over the little body and within another fraction of a minute of a horrible death.

Engineer Kerslake saw the child when the train was some distance away and running at about 30 miles an hour and instantly reversed the brakes. The train crew restored the baby to her parents, who live near the track, and yesterday she was playing about as usual, the tiny scratch that she might have received from any little bump being almost invisible.

TALK OF THE TOWN

We sell Coon's ice cream; strawberry, vanilla and chocolate. Barre Drug Co.

Mrs. L. Howard of Averill street is passing a week at Greenwood lake, Woodbury, with Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Fuller of Troy, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lewis left yesterday for Lancaster, N. H., where they will visit for a week with relatives on Mr. Lewis' vacation from his duties in the Cummings & Lewis store.

The case of State vs. Mrs. Beatrice Pasotto, charged with selling intoxicating liquor in a manner contrary to law, who was arrested Friday on a complaint made to State's Atty. Earle R. Davis, was not called in city court yesterday, as a week's continuance has been granted.

The woman's husband, who was arrested on a keeping charge following a raid in the Pasotto flat in the A. Tomas building, is under bail of $500. The couple have engaged J. Ward Carver to defend them.

Repairs are being made to a Ford automobile said to be owned by Charles Zanoloni, which collided with a south-bound trolley car on North Main street, near the Hastings service station, Saturday afternoon. Motorman Sweeney was in charge of the car and the automobile was occupied by Charles Zanoloni, jr., and his father. At the point where the accident occurred, a car was standing in front of the Hastings shop and the collision came when the driver of the Ford auto attempted to pass between the car at the curb and the trolley car. Fenders on the Ford were badly damaged, but the occupants escaped injury.

Charles G. Scott of 85 Ayers street, employed as a shipping clerk at the plant of Trow & Holden, is confined to the house as the result of an unusual accident which left him with a fractured knee cap. Mr. Scott was about his work yesterday afternoon when he made a misstep, slipped and fell on the floor of the shipping room at the plant. At first it was thought that a sprain had resulted, but a physician's examination disclosed the fracture, and Mr. Scott was removed to his home. It is expected that an operation will be necessary when the swelling disappears sufficiently to determine the exact nature of the break. Although the floor in the room where the clerk fell is oiled, it is not extraordinarily smooth, a condition which made the accident seem the more unusual.

CAR ROLLED OVER TWICE

And Came to Standstill Right Side Up on River Bank.

St. Johnsbury, July 18.—Plunging through a plank fence, down a steep embankment, turning completely over twice in the descent, and landing right side up within a few feet of the Passumpsic river without seriously injuring any of its four occupants, was the course Monday night of the automobile owned and driven by Frank Powers of Lyndonville. The accident occurred just below the Knowlton farm on the road to St. Johnsbury Center.

Mr. Powers and William Webb, with two others, were traveling toward Lyndonville. A car coming behind them is said to have endeavored to pass them while they were turning out for a third car, crowding them off the road and over the embankment. All were thrown out of the car on its descent and it is thought miraculous that some of the party were not killed or seriously injured. While the occupants suffered from shock and bruises, they escaped further injury with the exception of Mr. Webb, who sustained a sprained arm.

The automobile body was badly jammed, but the motor and running gear were uninjured. The machine was run to a garage under its own power.

Writing in the current issue of the Granite Cutters' Journal, the secretary of a union branch in Barre remarks on the excellent condition of business in the Barre granite belt and goes on to say that the customary post-Memorial day lull has not developed as yet. The letter was written some weeks ago, but his observation still holds good, for these are surely piping times in the granite industry. It is the job seeking the granite cutter to-day and skilled workmen are finding their services much in demand. Undoubtedly conditions are better than usual in mid-summer, but the fact remains that the munitions plants in Massachusetts and Connecticut as well as the army and navy have drawn heavily on the granite workers of this district. In the window of a North Main street tobacco dealer just now are posted notices calling for a total of 27 men in Barre and vicinity. One Barre firm alone is asking for 12 men to work on a building job.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Openshaw of Lawrence, Mass., M. A. Woodbury of New York City, A. A. ### FIGHTING FOR DAUGHTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Bush Daspit of New Orleans Brought Battle in Vermont.

Burlington, July 18.—"She left him for what seemed to her good and sufficient reasons," says the brother of Mrs. Ruth N. Daspit, wife of Bush Daspit of New Orleans. Mrs. Daspit fled to the home of her mother, Mrs. George S. Parker of 25 Wilson street, where she spent last night. The attitude of Daspit, who is also in town, according to Mrs. Daspit's brother, is different. He puts the onus on his wife, as she does upon him, but wants to resume the old relations and restore harmony.

Daspit has followed his wife to Vermont in order to get possession of his four-year-old daughter, Elizabeth W. Daspit. Mrs. Daspit has already been in the state for a month. She has never been in the city or state before, but was married about five years ago in the West and has always lived there. The Parker family moved here from the middle West.

Daspit obtained a writ of habeas corpus at Brattleboro on Monday, which was served upon his wife yesterday, and the case was set for to-day in county court, when R. E. Brown and W. G. Webster for Daspit were to fight proceedings to put the child into Daspit's possession. Frank E. Barber of Brattleboro is representing Daspit. Attorney Barber consulted with Presiding Judge Fred M. Butler yesterday, regarding the trial of the case. A counter suit for separation or divorce by Mrs. Daspit will be the natural sequence if her resolution to part from him is not broken and he fails to obtain the child.

50 YEARS UNITED.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Potter of St. Johnsbury Celebrated To-day.

St. Johnsbury, July 18.—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Potter to-day celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Five of the guests present at the wedding 50 years ago were invited, Mrs. Harrison Taplin, St. Johnsbury; Captain E. F. Griswold, East St. Johnsbury; Mrs. Josie L. Pierce, Johnsbury; John C. Gracey, Peacham, and O. M. Gracey, Somerville, Mass.

Mr. Potter was born in Sheffield July 19, 1843, and his bride, Miss Sarah Gracey, in Peacham a year later. At the age of 19 Mr. Potter enlisted in Co. A, 11th regiment, Vermont heavy artillery, and served with distinction until the close of the war. He is a past commander of Chamberlain post, Grand Army, and with one exception is thought to be the oldest Mason in Vermont. He joined the order in St. Johnsbury in 1885. Mr. Potter is an insurance agent and pension attorney, and is at his office every day.

FAVORITES TO THE FORE.

But Cloudburst Stopped Racing Program at Cleveland.

Cleveland, July 18.—Favorites stepped to the front yesterday at the grand circuit meet at North Randall, but only two races were finished, a near cloud-burst flooding the track and forcing the postponement of the other three events on the card.

Mawitza, with Edman up, won the first division of the 2:19 trot in straight heats and easily outclassed the outfield. Peter Schuyler and Oscar Watts put up a pretty battle for place and show, the Schuyler horse finally getting second money.

In the second division of the 2:19 trot, Peter Chenault, with Murphy up, was given hot competition by Hollyrod King in the second heat and North Spur in the third. In fact, in the second heat the horses finished almost nose and nose. Only a great drive down the home stretch by Murphy in the third heat gave his horse the heat and race.

After Kelly De Forest, the favorite in the betting, had won the first heat of the Fasig sweepstake, the rain descended in torrents and turned the track into a veritable river.

The unfinished events on yesterday's card have been put forward, six races being scheduled for to-day.

THREE WEEKS' QUARANTINE

For Naval Recruits from Counties Which Have Poliomyelitis.

Burlington, July 18.—Dr. F. C. Smith of the United States public health service, now attached to the Brooklyn navy yard, who has been investigating the poliomyelitis situation in Vermont, has returned to New York.

Dr. Smith was very much impressed with the precautionary measures taken to combat the disease in this state.

A consultation with Dr. Charles F. Dalton, Ensign W. W. Harris, head of the local navy recruiting station, and Surgeon A. H. Cech, also of the recruiting office, was held while the doctor was in this city, and it was decided to recommend to the secretary of the navy that recruits from the infected counties be subjected to quarantine for a period of three weeks before being allowed to assume the duties of their enlistment.

Dr. Dalton accompanied Dr. Smith and the others named to the fort, where the secretary of the state board of health introduced him to the officials at the post.
